Report of School Board.

MADISON CORNER SCHOOL.

First term taught by Miss Annie Whitaker, of Conway. Miss Whitaker tried hard for the success of her school. Unfortunately there are several boys in this school who evidently have not had good discipline at home, and that, with their lack of interest, was a serious injury to the school.

Fall term taught by Miss Adelaide Higgins. Miss Higgins is a Normal School graduate and a teacher of experience, and seemed to have excellent methods of instruction, and tried earnestly and honestly for her pupils. She gained the good will of those who had caused the most discord before, but the school was not satisfactory in every way. While she might have lacked tact, we think the main trouble lies with a few parents who do not give a teacher the support and encouragement due her by visiting and trying with her for the success and advancement of their scholars.

SILVER LAKE SCHOOL.

First term taught by Miss Priscilla Cotton, of Wolfeboro. Miss Cotton is a graduate of Brewster Academy, was interested in her work and tried hard for the advancement of her pupils; her discipline was not what is required for a thoroughly profitable school.

Second term taught by Miss Annie Whitaker, of Conway. Miss Whitaker has taught several schools in our town and with good success. This school made good improvement under her instruction, and she had the high regard of pupils and parents, who did much for the success of the school by visiting it frequently and showing interest through the entire term.

NICKERSON SCHOOL.

First term taught by Miss Emma Perkins, of Conway. Miss

Perkins seems an earnest, serious worker, and evidently tried for the success of her school, but for some reason did not gain the good will of her pupils, which is necessary for successful work in school.

Second term taught by Miss Lila Hussey, a gradnate of Rochester High School. This was Miss Hussey's first term of teaching, but with her earnest and enthusiastic efforts she soon gained the esteem of pupils and parents, and a profitable school was the result.

TASKER SCHOOL.

First term taught by Miss Ida Kennett, of Madison. This was Miss Kennett's first attempt at teaching and she seemed to give good satisfaction. This school is one of the brightest in town and made good advancement.

Second term was taught by Miss Ella Bryant, of Eaton. This school passed an excellent examination, showing a good understanding of what had been gone over, but we think they are capable of doing still better work with more experienced teachers and more advanced methods.

MASON SCHOOL.

First term taught by Mr. Sherman Phillips, of Madison. Mr. Phillips is a teacher of some experience, seemed interested in his school, and satisfactory progress was reported.

Second term taught by Miss Winslow, of Ossipee. Miss Winslow is a graduate of Gorham Normal School and a teacher of experience. Her pupils seemed interested, and made average improvement.

QUARRY SCHOOL.

There was no school here until September. The scholars were taught in the other schools. The term was commenced by Miss Edith Hall, of Union, but on account of sickness, she remained only three weeks. Term was finished by Mr. Sherman Phillips. This is a small school and nearly all small scholars.

In reviewing the work of our schools for the past year, we feel that in some we had fairly profitable work, and that the best results were where the teacher was upheld and encouraged by the personal interest and appreciation shown by the people.

The teachers have been earnest workers generally, but successful and up-to-date schools will never be the rule in our town until the citizens show more active interest in them, visit them, encourage teachers by conferring with them, and not condemn them unheard for some petty grievance a child may have. School teaching has changed, with other branches of work, and qualifications and methods which served twenty years ago, even, do not meet the requirements of today. Those who intend making teaching a business are fitting themselves for better situations and higher wages. Consequently it is much more difficult to secure efficient and experienced teachers for small schools with only moderate wages.

We hope all will feel a personal interest in the success of our schools for the present year, and try each year for better and more intelligent work, until the standard of our schools is raised.
